Once again, summer is upon us. Time to venture a little further than your local and visit some of our lovely country pubs. Many of the pubs in the outer reaches of our branch area can be got to by public transport (with bus and rail companies offering group tickets). For those of you feeling a bit more energetic, why not follow many of the public footpath in our wonderful countryside to enjoy these fine alehouses. Please also look at the diary page to see the branch organised outings (non camra members are also welcome).

I would like to thank those who have contributed in submitting article for Drakes Drinker and request our readers to submitted articles for futures issues. We also need companies to advertise in Drakes Drinker to help it to continue being published.

Please drink wisely and be safe.

CAMRA's AGM

Sue's proper job

I'D like to say that, unlike Lady Godiva, we were all decently clad when CAMRA's AGM sent us to Coventry. But you should have seen some of the tee-shirts...and the hats!

It was a serious conference and there were some sober moments – though happily not that many as we took full advantage of an excellent selection of 70 ales in the members' bar and several local hostelries.

I could go on at length about the different motions – drip trays, minimum unit pricing and that hoary chestnut cask breathers – but if you weren't there you can find it all online.

Colin Valentine

No. The real point of Conference is to meet up with old friends and for Fran and I that starts with 'our gang'. Two of them are Sue and David who have been our best mates for 25 years; at the time they were then mine hosts at the amazing Star Inn at Weaverthorpe on the Yorkshire Wolds which made it into my CAMRA Good Pub Food guide Top Ten. Quite simply, Sue's regional cooking and David's cellarman'ship and championing of fledgling breweries all those years ago defined what a great pub should be. The other is CAMRA stalwart Jane, our friend from the many years we lived in St Albans, home to CAMRA's national HQ.

Next is Colin Valentine who, at the end of this year's conference, stood down after eight years as CAMRA Chairman. He has been an outstanding leader through turbulent times but Fran and I first met him when he was Scottish director and we were doing a pre-conference recce of Edinburgh for What's Brewing. Did he take us on a pub crawl? No, he took us to the Malt Whisky Society in Leith; unsurprisingly he's been a friend ever since.

Then we met up with Iain Dobson, the first person to be made MBE for services to beer. Iain was CAMRA's National Secretary when the campaign was run in an old house in St Albans. He has always hidden his encyclopaedic knowledge of pubs, brewing and associated legalities behind an astonishing capacity to lead us astray; in short, the perfect pub crawl partner.

Iain Dobson talking to our friend David

You can't mistake that tall bloke who always wears the same striped rugby-shirt and gets to his feet saying in a strong Hertfordshire accent "Steve Bury, Sarth 'Erts CAMRA" (our old branch); then delegates know sparks will fly.

We've known Michael Hardman, also MBE, one of the four original founders of CAMRA, almost since it started; for Fran and I have been members for over 45 years, and have only missed one AGM.

And there are all the others – CAMRA members, brewers, publicans – who we only see once a year. Sadly, each year now, there are faces missing – some too old to make the trip, but there is a lengthening 'obituary' list accorded posthumous applause.

Roger Protz, internationally famed beer writer and broadcaster, twice editor of What's Brewing and many editions of the Good Beer Guide, who first recruited me as a CAMRA writer, does not fall into either category but was missing this year due to a minor operation. We'll buy him a pint of Caledonian in Dundee next year. See you there?

Billy Holmes – A True Gentleman, RIP

It is with much sadness that we have learnt of the sudden death of long-standing Plymouth publican, Billy Holmes, on Sunday 6th May. He was 21, and a bit (I never got round to asking how much this bit was!).

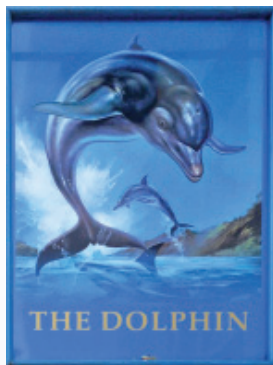

I first met Billy, in the Dolphin of course, back in 1990, when I went into the pub on a non-weekend evening for the first time. Billy was behind the bar, pouring a pint of Bass into my glass and making small-talk. What did we talk about – beer, of course! But Billy had time to talk to every one of his customers, however busy he was.

In October 1992, Plymouth CAMRA volunteered to make the Regional Launch of CAMRA's flagship publication, the Good Beer Guide (1993 edition), and asked Billy if we could launch it at the Dolphin. He thought for at least a second, and then readily agreed!

Billy was so chuffed to hosting a major CAMRA event that he put on a magnificent seafood buffet; local breweries Summerskills and Ferguson's donated some beer, as did Bass; we had BBC Spotlight and TSW TV camera's here, as well as BBC Radio 4 and the Plymouth Evening Herald and Western Morning News. We presented a parchment plaque to commemorate the day, which was the first of many over the years, the most recent being City Pub Of The Year Runner Up in 2016.

In later years, Billy has suffered from ill health, but was still active in the pub – on his bar stool in the corner – supping a glass or two of wine, spinning yarns about anything and everything.

Sadly, Billy was unaware that the Dolphin had been voted Plymouth CAMRA City Pub Of The Year Runner Up for 2018, the forth time in five years, as the result was only announced a couple of weeks ago, and I hadn't found the time to see him and let him know. I bitterly regret not having done so.

Plymouth CAMRA would like to send our sincere condolences to Billy's family, friends and staff at the Dolphin at this difficult time.

THE SUPERIOR PALE ALE

QUALITY SPEAKS FOR ITSELF

GUESS the Location?

Late last year I took a trip up-country. Unusually I went by National Express coach to Birmingham where I wanted to visit The Anchor Inn, which is located right next to Digbeth Coach Station. It calls itself Birmingham's premier real ale pub. As it was the only pub visited in Birmingham I can't really compare it to any other pub so I can't pass judgement.

It is a traditional type of pub with its stained glass windows and an unusual heated foot rail around the bar. Arranged around the pub's walls were lovely old fashioned leather bound benches.

On offer was a very palatable Wye Valley bitter 3.7% but the outstanding beer was Goats Milk from Church End Brewery at 3.8%. A gold medal winner at the 2017 Great British beer festival. Extremely drinkable. There were also 4 keg beers on offer with 1960's soul and blues background music. Well worth a visit sort of pub with its excellent décor and ale in a very central location.

Then it was on to my next destination via a totally revamped New Street Train Station. A welcome improvement on the previous station.

My destination has been reported to have the most listed buildings in the country which made me want to visit.

After arriving at the Grade 2 listed railway station I checked into my accommodation situated above the pub with a view of the Castle just behind. A former Citizen of this town was Charles Darwin.

My first hostelry visited was the Loggerheads which dates from 1780 and used to be a coaching house. There is a list of all the licence holders since it opened, which is unusual. A lovely pub with uneven flooring so be careful. It has open fireplaces, wood panelling and a higgledy piggledy layout. If you are hungry, do not visit as it does not serve food. On offer were Hobgoblin – Gold, Jennings Sneck Lifter – dark ale, Ringwood Brewery Boon Doggle and Barks Amber. A great find.

My next pub was the nearby Three Fishes set in a wonderful timber framed building dating from around the 16th century. There was an impressive choice of beers. A light station Bitter from Stonehouse Brewery at 3.9%, Three Tuns Stout 4.4% from Three Tuns Brewery one of the oldest breweries in the country dating from 1642. Also on offer was Timothy Taylor – Landlord. Moonshine Pale Ale from Abbey dale Brewery Sheffield at 4.3% and Crakaddle a strong 5.2% pale ale from Thornbridge Brewery. There is food served but be careful of the low ceilings.

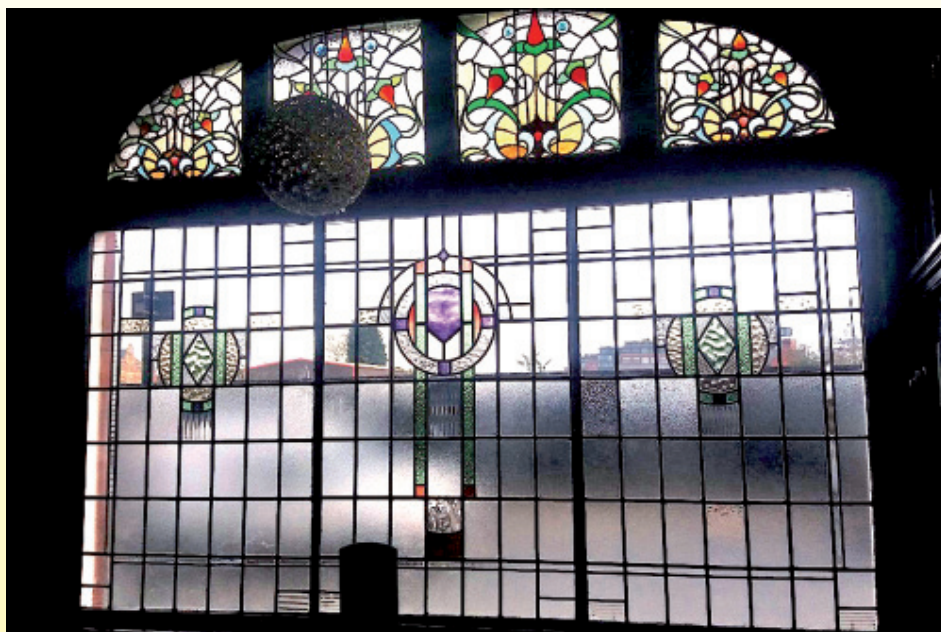

Then came my favourite drinking establishment of this country town; The Nags Head. Still run by the same landlord for the past 34 years. It has a very quirky beer garden with the garden walls which date back to about the 14th century. It offers no food but had an impressive list of beers which included

Oracle from Salopian brewery 4.8%, Sharps Sea Fury, Titanic Plum Porter and Timothy Taylor Landlord. A proper pub with a friendly atmosphere.

Another interesting pub visited was the Coach and Horses which dates back to 1861 and has been a regular entry in The CAMRA good beer guide. It has a wonderful old style bar with lovely wood panelling and a cosy snug area with its own large open fireplace. Not forgetting all you foody fans, there is a large eating area with an extensive menu. The beers on offer included Nelson Mandela from Six bells brewery at 5.8% and Tumbledown Dick from St Ann's brewery at 4.5%.

These were just a few of the more interesting pubs visited, so if you have an interest in history and architecture this town is well worth a visit. I was surprised that I didn't see any local CAMRA publications but I made a point of leaving a few Drakes Drinker magazines.

All in all, with its close proximity to Birmingham and also Wales it's an interesting spot to visit.

If you hadn't guessed by now, the location is Shrewsbury in Shropshire.

CAMRA Members Vote For Change

Members of the Campaign for Real Ale (CAMRA) have voted to approve all but one of its' National Executive's (CAMRA's Board of Directors) recommendations designed to take the organisation into the future.

Almost 18 000 members voted online and at CAMRA's AGM, held in Coventry on April 21st, to express their views on changes to CAMRA's Articles of Association (AAs) to re-define the 47-year-old organisation's purpose and campaigning activities.

Members' voted to remove the organisation's current "objects" in the Articles of Association – the statement of what the Campaign exists to achieve. In place of the old objects, members voted to approve recommendations to add in new objectives for the Campaign, designed to make the organisation more inclusive, relevant and welcoming:

- 1. To secure the long-term future of real ale, real cider and real perry by increasing their quality, availability and popularity;
- 2. To promote and protect pubs and clubs as social centres, as part of the UK's cultural heritage;
- 3. To increase recognition of the benefits or responsible, moderate social drinking;
- 4. To play a leading role in the provision of information, education and training to all those with an interest in beer, cider and perry of any type;
- 5. To ensure, where possible, that producers and retailers of beer, cider and perry act in the best interests of the customer.

However, despite 72% of members agreeing to the measure, the 75% threshold was not met to approve the recommendation to add one additional object to CAMRA's Articles of Association:

- 1. To act as the voice, and represent the interests, of all pub-goers, and beer, cider and perry drinkers.

The changes will see CAMRA put increased focus on educating members (and non-members) about different types of beer. It also sees campaigning for real cider and perry added to the objects for the first time, as well as recognising pub and club protection as a key object for the organisation.

CAMRA's out-going National Chairman, Colin Valentine, said: "The recommendations for change that the NE made to The Membership were based entirely on feedback received from Members when we consulted with them as part of the Revitalisation Project.

"It was the largest consultation CAMRA has ever carried out, and we listened to the views of over 25 000 of our members, who filled in on-line surveys and attended consultation meetings across the country.

"We were determined to give every single member the right to have the final say on the recommendations by voting on the changes to the AAs. The Membership have taken advantage of that right, and made its' views clear. "We're delighted that all but one of the Special Resolutions was approved, which shows the majority of members agreed with the consultation findings, that CAMRA needs to change to remain a relevant and effective campaigning organisation.

"The hard work now starts to define new strategies to position CAMRA where our members have told us they want it to be. We appreciate that, while the majority of members voted in favour of most of the recommendations, there is some disagreement about how we deliver the required changes.

"We need to do all we can to reassure all members that our core campaigning objectives remain focused on real ale, real cider and real perry, as ever. Those who called for more far-reaching changes, which has not been supported in the vote, and those who disagreed with any change, can be confident that their contribution to the Campaign remains as valued as ever – and that all members can continue to work together to achieve common objectives."

CAMRA DISCOUNT SCHEME

CAMRA has over 190,000 members nationwide, with about 1,000 members locally.

All of these are thirsty real ale drinkers, and love a good deal!

The CAMRA Discount Scheme enables pubs to promote their business to our members and hopefully encourage more trade. This discount offered will be advertised free of charge on the branch website, www.plymouth.camra.org.uk, and the National CAMRA website, and in this magazine from time to time. We can also provide posters to advertise the offer to visitors.

If you are the licensee of a pub, and are interested in joining this scheme, please contact our branch Vice Chairman, Ian Dickinson, on vicechairman@plymouth.camra.org.uk

The following pub discount information has been received by Plymouth CAMRA and is given in good faith, but is liable to change at short notice. Some discounts may be modified or restricted when special promotions are on offer. List correct to 3 May 2018.

Say cheers to Drake's Pale Ale; raising funds for local people

The Plymouth Drake Foundation is celebrating its 10th Anniversary this year. As part of our celebrations, the Roborough based Roam Brewing Company, run by brewer and owner Jon Clargo, have launched a commemorative beer.

Drake's Pale Ale will be available at various Plymouth pubs from today. For the beer connoisseurs it is a crisp hoppy limited edition beer which uses only the finest hops, is smooth and 4.8% proof. Roam Brewery are very generously donating 10p per pint to the charity.

The Plymouth Drake Foundation is an umbrella Charity. We work with donors and partners to raise funds which enable us to provide grants and help to community groups and organisations in Plymouth; supporting projects which improve the health and well-being of people in our local communities.

The Plymouth Drake Foundation supports the Youth Hardship Fund, through the Zone, which helps young people in crisis. We helped to set up the Veterans Memory Cafe in Crownhill, found funding to help the Drake Sea Cadets purchase three new safety boats and helped the Dartmoor Search & Rescue Team get financial advice that saved them precious funds; to name a few of the groups that we have supported.

Our current round of funding, the Imagine Fund, is supporting projects that give young people help in raising their aspirations and self-esteem and improving life prospects. The New4You Youth group, Mount Batten Centre Charity Trust, Hope4Summer and Friends of the Plymouth School of Creative Arts were all successful in being awarded funding.

Our only significant overhead is a part-time Office Manager and a part-time Charity Shop Manager. The rest of the work is all done by a strong group of Trustees and volunteers.

MAL DE MER

This Mal de Mer nearly didn't happen as I am currently boatless, neither Sandyman nor Doris being back in the water yet. You can see from the photograph what we are reduced to. So all we had was the dinghy but as that likes to throw us into the water, Mal and I decided that discretion is the better part of valour and that the trip should be undertaken on foot. We did it on the Sunday of the first May Bank Holiday weekend and had a tour of Stonehouse in lovely sunny weather.

The first pub on the tour was The Lord High Admiral. This used to be a St Austell's house but in the last few months it has changed hands and has some interesting cask ales as well as being a craft beer outlet with some good food being served of the posh burger variety. The beers on offer were New Lion Brewery Pandit, Roam Brewing Drakes Pale Ale, and Tribute.

I had the first 2 and they were both excellent. The pub make over is good with excellent outside seating, and it was doing a good trade.

The next pub was the Brewery Tap. The pub (formerly The Royal) had been closed for quite a while but is now operational again thanks to the good people of Porters in Looe Street. The cask ale on offer was Hunters Half Bore and was good.

This pub has an interesting history. It was indeed the Brewery Tap for Regents Brewery next door in its day. The original pub was bombed in the war and the current modern building stands in its place. There are some worthwhile photos inside. Mal recalls on first being posted to Plymouth seeing the horse drawn drays with a man and boy in aprons delivering to the local pubs. The stables are still standing close to Cremyll Street and are shown in a photograph below. The horses' names were Tom and Clyde.

The next pub on the tour was the Vine at the top of the Cremyll Ferry landing and thanks to that location it has the honour of being the first and last pub in Devon. The landlord is Craig also a former Royal Marine. The cask ale was Dartmoor Jail but it being a hot day I opted for a pint of Thatchers. One of the customers, Chuggie, was having his birthday and there was some delicious birthday food available to all. I tucked into chilli, spicy chicken, and sausage rolls which were excellent – thank you Chuggie and Maggie. It was a good happy atmosphere.

The next pub was the Artillery Arms in Admiralty Street, a GBG entry. This is a lovely old building with impressive walls and a monkey racing course on the ceiling. The pub is run by Belinda who kindly came out for the photoshoot. The cask ale was Bass which was excellent. There is usually a guest ale on as well. This was originally 2 pubs, the Navy and Army Inn on the corner plot and the Artillery Arms next door in Admiralty Street, and Belinda has had appropriate signs made up.

The last pub is Mal's favourite, the Victualling Office Tavern or VOT, and he is often to be found in the back garden which is a great sun trap. I have mentioned this before – James does the best pint of Tribute in the city. Way better than the rest and if you are not happy with it in anyway he is happy to change it, although I can assure you this will not be necessary. He had 2 guests from Sharps, Sea Fury and Atlantic. I am told that the VOT is the second oldest pub in Plymouth after the Minerva.

This was a great start to the summer after the long drawn out wet winter. May we have a good summer.

PLYMOUTH CAMRA PUBS OF THE YEAR 2018.

Once again, all Plymouth CAMRA branch members, nearly 1 000 of them, have been asked to vote for their branch pub of the year (POTY). The results, as always, were formally announced at the branch Annual General Meeting held in April.

Members consider the quality of the real ale, cider and perry; choice; service; welcome and overall “feel” of the pubs when making their choices. We have a City POTY, which includes all pubs within the city, Plympton and Plymstock areas; a Country POTY, which includes pubs not within the city area; a Cider and Perry POTY, which includes all branch areas; and a Club Of The Year, again covering all branch areas.

The results are as follows (for Real Ale)

Overall Branch POTY 2018	Fortescue Hotel, 37 Mutley Plain
City POTY 2018	Fortescue Hotel, 37 Mutley Plain
City POTY Runner Up 2018	Dolphin Hotel, 12, Barbican
Country POTY 2018	Royal Oak, Meavy
Country POTY 2018 Runner Up	Foxhound Inn, Brixton
Cider and Perry POTY 2018	Fortescue Hotel, 37 Mutley Plain
Club Of The Year 2018	Fawn Members Club, 39 Prospect Street, Greenbank

We would like to congratulate all the winners, especially Tash Smith, manageress of the Fortescue, on her first CAMRA award! There were over 40 pubs nominated this year, with about a third of them located outside the city. I would like to encourage all Plymouth CAMRA branch members to vote in this annual competition – the more members who vote, the more satisfying it will be for the winners! I hope to be counting 1 000 or more voting forms next year!

Plymouth CAMRA LocAle Scheme

The Campaign for real Ale has a scheme called CAMRA LocAle. This initiative promotes pubs which sell locally-brewed real ale, builds on the growing consumer demand for quality local produce and an increased awareness of “green” issues. It is coordinated by local branches of CAMRA, in this case Plymouth branch. In Devon and Cornwall, the distance from the pub to the relevant brewery must be 30 miles or less to qualify. County boundaries and CAMRA branch boundaries are totally irrelevant. List correct to 3 May 2018.
